WINNIPEG, Nov. 19.— The engineers at the end of the Canada Pacific report the discovery of a large cave half a mile west of the 30th siding, high up on a lofty mountain side. It is three acres in extent, and wonderful in the abunda- of fossil marine specimens to be seen in the interior.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—Serious damage to a Midland freight train at Scarboro Junction grade has just come to light. On Saturday a train principally of lumber, broke in two at the Junction, and the engine with one half ran on about half a mile, and then waited for the other half, consisting of ten cars, which came thunddering on and telescoped with the others, doing about $10,000 damage.

News has just been received from Birr of the death of Dr. McIlhargey, of Lucan. The doctor, it would seem, was suffering from severe pain, to relieve which he took a dose of morphine, which proved to have been too large, and caused his death. He was a young man, and greatly esteemed in his profession.

A cruel story has come to light in Ottawa. A young man named Dunning turned his father out of doors, and the latter was found out in Mckay's bush by the police almost frozen. After telling his pitiful story he was sent to Protestant hospital. What action will be taken against the son remain to be seen.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—It is report that the sentence of death passed upon Hardinge and Green, the Sandwich murderers, will not be commuted.

The Grand Trunk Railway has discharged one hundred men from their works at Point St. Charles.

The arrangement of the affairs of Messrs. D Morrice & Co., the cotton men, is progressing satisfactorily.

Imported rubber re-covered and substitutes for rubber have been placed on the free list by order-in council.

Cook Tait, the alleged poisoner of Rose Leppard, at Fiesherton, is a blind man. He has a mother and a wife living.

The Bank of Hochelaga has declared dividend of 10 per cent.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Matthew Arnold will visit Canada in February or March.

Toronto, Nov. 21.—Osler, new Judge of the Court of Appeal, was sworn in yesterday.

Andrew Drummond, manager of the Bank of Montreal in Ottawa, has resigned. He was for many years connected with the institution.

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Willing & Williamson, wholesale stationers, have failed, with liabilities of $95,000.

Galt, Nov. 19.—James Trotter's jewelry store at Galt has been burglarzied and seven thousand dollars' worth of stock stolen, as also $120 in cash. The store next door was also burglarized, and $200 in cash stolen.

Kingston, Nov. 20.—Yesterday afternoon at three o'clock the investigation into the ground for the charges brought against Sheriff Ferguson by C. H. Corbett, gaoler, was begun by Mr. Robert Christie, inspector of gaols and charities and Mr. John Winchester, inspector of sheriffs' offices. Evidence was taken up to six o'clock this evening. It related principally to whether the sheriff's door was locked during office hours. Testimony was also taken as to items in his accounts with the government. It was shown that all were correct except one of $3, which he thought, and still thinks, he paid to the matron of the gaol for escorting a prisoner to Toronto. Regarding the charges that he used the prisoners' labour and the gaol wood, there was nothing in them. He bought wood by tender, which he advertised for in the papers. On the whole not one charge was substantiated, and from remarks dropped by one of the inspectors a favourable report for the sheriff will be made to the Government.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Henry Benee Jones, one of the most eminent physicians of England, accidentally shot himself in the ankle, and died from the wound yesterday morning after an amputation of the leg.

KINGCARDINE, Nov. 21. — About 2·30 this afternoon a loud report like the discharge of a twenty-one pounder was heard in town, and while the citizens generally were conjecturing the cause, word was received that the tug Erie Belle owned by Odette & Wherry of Windsor, which arrived at this port on Tuesday morning, to take off the beached schooner Carter was blown up and all hands lost. On going to the scene of the disaster it was found that the boiler of the tug had exploded and the vessel itself was shattered to pieces, but fortunately the lives of eight of the crew of twelve had been saved.

Two Brantford ladies have offered to supplement Mr. Stratford's generous proposal to provide the city with a public hospital by equipping the institution with the necessary furniture.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21. — Captain George Simpson Fraser, late in the 62nd or Wiltshire Regiment, died this morning at the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. H. A. Vennor. Capt. Fraser was the son of a gentleman well-known in connection with the Hudson Bay Company, of which his guardian and namesake, Sir George Simpson, was President. The deceased gentleman had seen a good deal of service in India, and retired from the army a few years ago. He was senior captain when he left. Captain Fraser was well known and respected in Montreal. He was born in 1838 and educated at Chambly, and was at one time a medical student at McGill College. During his military service he was present with his regiment in Ireland when his regiment was sent to that country to assist in the suppression of the Fenian riots, and took part in several skirmishes.

In the chapel of the Loretto Abbey, Toronto, three young ladies took the final vows and one the white veil yesterday.

The inquiry into the charge against Sheriff Ferguson, of Frontenac, was concluded yesterday. Judgment was reserved.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Chief Justice Wilson and Judge Galt reserved judgment on an application to commit David Mills for contempt for publishing comments on the Bothwell election case in the Advertiser while the case was sub judice. They expressed the opinion that it was not worth while making the application.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—There was a fire at the Central Prison yesterday, supposed to have been started by prisoners. It destroyed Brandon & Co.'s wood-working establishment and inflicted a loss of $4,000 to them and a loss of $70,000 to the government. Both are fully insured. The fire required the services of the entire city brigade to prevent the main building, where the prisoners are confined, from being burned.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—S. W. Beard, the coal merchant, who was arrested for a debt of $18,900 due to the Hochelaga Bank, had to go to gaol, as plaintiffs objected to the bail offered.

The Allan shipping company has withdrawn any further proceedings against the Witness, and will pay all costs, estimated at $6,000.

A Crimean British officer, who has acted as a Lieutenant-Colonel of Canadian militia, was found living in a garret here with his two children in the most abject poverty, the latter nearly naked.

THERE is no remedy known to medical science that is more positive in its effect to cure Cholera Morbus, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, and all Bowel Complaints than Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. (35)

AGE should always command respect, in the case of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry it certainly does; for 25 years that has been the standard remedy with the people for Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Colic, and all Bowel Complaints. (33)

AN oasis in the desert is no brighter light to the wandering Arab than a bottle of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is to the unfortunate sufferer from Kidney Disease. It is a perfect, positive and permanent cure. dw

SIMPLY miraculous is all I can say of the effect of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure in my case. An elderly lady writes this from Antigonish, N. S., who had suffered from pain in the back for twenty years. dw.

IT is a fact that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has more well earned testimonials of praise for its virtues in curing Cholera, Colic, Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, etc., than all other remedies of that class combined. It will stand investigation.

DR. COOPER'S VEGETABLE LIVER-WORT AND KIDNEY CURE

Has no equal as a safe remedy for all diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. Over 250,000 bottles sold during 1882. Price $1 a bottle. MOORE & Co., sole agents. dw

---

IF you are a professional man, an editor, lawyer, clergyman or doctor, so thoroughly overworwked that now every mental effort is attended with a sense of weariness, followed by headache and more or less severe nervous prostration, take a dose of DR. AUSTIN'S PHOSPHATINE along with your meals for a week or two and we are certain it will relieve you. For sale by all druggists. dw

TRUE merit brings its own reward, in the case of Burdock Blood Bitters it is rapidly bringing its reward in its increasing sales; as a prominent Druggist recently said, "it now sells on its own merits." It is the grand specific for diseases of the Blood, Liver, and Kidneys. 25,000 bottles have been sold during the last three months. (34)

J. E. KENNEDY, dispensing chemistt Cobourg, says that no blood purifier that he has ever handled has had such a large sale as Burdock Blood Bitters, and adds, "In no case have I heard a customer say ought but words of praise for its remedial qualities." (31)

Of all the sweets of which mortals can dream,
There is none to excel strawberries and cream.

Neither is there any remedy known to mortals that can excel Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as cure for Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and Bowel Complaints. (29)

NOTICE OF DIVORCE.—Virginia Tietjen has been granted a divorce from A. P. Tietjen and she has been granted the custody of their minor child and is to assume her maiden name of Virginia Williams.—Grass Valley Tidings, July 12th. *1m

THE STANDARD AND THE SPEECH

The opening of the session on Monday last does not seem to have inspired the Standard with any great joy, nor is it likely its close will add much to its enthusiasm. The Speech from the Throne, it thinks, must have been a great disappointment. No doubt it was, to many people who had been accustomed to hear such orations as concocted by the late government and had nodded over the stereotyped rhetoric session after session—alike vapid and pitiless in its account of its stewardship of the past, and in the absence of any suggestion of hope for the future. No doubt a relief was experienced when the chaplain summoned the house to prayers. But the vocal shadows echoed from the walls of the house on these occasions never took any material form; the speech from the Throne contained nothing and nothing came of it. A speech from the Throne can only be a foreshadowing after all; but the shadows may be such that substantial and progressive legislation may be evolved from them. The lieutenant-governor's speech was evidently a little too lively for the Standard. In the first place it alluded to that dreadful Settlement Bill, involving in itself the construction of the Island railway, the getting rid of the drydock, the opening of the railway lands, in fact a general settlement of our disputed account with the Dominion. This in itself was quite enough for any single speech from the Throne. The Standard evidently thought it was a little too much. But what can be the source of the public improvements and private enterprise, the existence of which was alluded to? Is it the reflex influence of the prudent and energetic administration of the late government as our esteemed neighbor would tell us? Few people would believe him. The speech from the Throne also justly boasted of the successful efforts which had been made to encourage immigration. The Standard is probably mad because the government did not lock their immigration pamphlets up in a lumber room like its own model administration did. The speech also tells us that the roads and bridges have received far more substantial attention than in former years. This is shocking. It also ventures to assert that the provincial gaol and lunatic asylum will have to be dealt with on account of their failure to meet the pressing wants of the province. No doubt the Standard is distressed by such an avalanche of useful legislation either accomplished or yet to be achieved, and so unlike the prim and meagre bills of fare which year after year the people used to be provided with when they went up to feast at the political passover at James Bay. And a pass-over it literally was, inasmuch as everything was ignored and neglected which held out any hope of progress or improvement in the province. Yet the Standard used to feast magnificently thereat, and smack its lips and stroke its lean paunch, and asked the people and province to grow fat on the sumptuous fare which had been provided out of nothing, and which cost nothing and produced nothing.

WHAT ARE SOLID GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE?

A portion of the time of the British Association was taken up at its recent meeting by a discussion on the subject of divorce, and the circumstances under which it might be deemed permissible—even imperative. Mr. J. B. Davidson, of the Scottish bar, led the way in a paper in which he laid down the principle that though marriage is a personal contract, others were interested, and there was an implied condition that the feelings and happiness of these parties should be considered. The alterations and extensions which he suggested in the law of divorce were:—(1) Divorce on four years' wilful desertion; (2) divorce in cases of incurable insanity; (3) divorce in case of penal servitude of five years and upwards; (4) divorce in cases of persistent drunkenness creating private misery and public scandal; (5) judicial separation with penalties, wherever the infliction of these is possible, and with loss of the society and custody of the children, in cases of serious incompatibility. So far as the first four sections are concerned it seems to be only necessary to state them in order to obtain general consent to the proposition that no one should remain bound under such conditions for a life time. As to "incompatibility" it may be said that it is just one of those conditions of mind which can be cultivated or stamped out. To make it a ground of divorce would be to create a crop of fancied misery, leading to many ills and inconveniences. It is clear enough to those who have had the opportunity of experience that mutual forbearance in the marriage state is as necessary to the happy continuance of it as in other relations of life depending upon personal intercourse. But is it not too much to ask that forbearance should extend to such conditions as wilful desertion and habital drunkenness, to say nothing as regards insanity and the stain of criminality? No doubt the privileges of divorce have been carried altogether too far in some portions of the United States but it may be held to be equally true that the practical non-existence of divorce in Canada is the means of untold misery in very many cases? The fact that this matter is being discussed in the highest circles of thought, and that opinion in Scotland is fast moving in the direction pointed out, suggests the possibility that even in Canada men and women will not be held by law to a life long cruel bondage in those cases in which one or the other party to the marriage contract has forfeited all claim to consideration by conduct including violence, drunkenness and criminality.

REANNEXATION.

WAS IRELAND ONCE A PART OF THE UNITED STATES?

Robinson in Possession of Documents Claiming that It Was.

(Brooklyn Eagle, November 10th.)

Last night the City Assembly rooms, on Washington street, the Hon. Wm. E. Robinson delivered a lecture on "The Irishman at Home and Abroad," for the benefit of Branch 12, St. Patrick's Alliance of America. He said: It is a curious fact that toward the close of the last session I introduced a joint resolution on the reannexation of Ireland to the United States. Some time ago a proposition was made in the House of Representatives to enable the President to get possession of Yucatan. I did not like the idea of fighting small nations. They were no account. I took that bill as it was printed, and whenever I came across the word Yucatan I placed the word Ireland. So last session I introduced the subject, and I believe the object was defeated after all. I cannot tell whether Ireland would agree to be annexed to the United States, and of course in this joint resolution I should introduce a clause providing for the submission of that proposition to the people of Ireland. I propose that we should purchase Ireland from England. The vagabonds that have the land in Ireland stole it from the people. They never had a right to it. I propose that the President of the United States open negotiations for the purchase of Ireland from England and reannex it to the United States. (Applause.) Mr. Bancroft, the historian, told me my proposition was a good one. The word reannexation was the proper one, because Franklin and other patriots considered Ireland a part of the colonies, and they rebelled against England and conquered her in this country. (Applause.) I received a letter from Bancroft, which I think I shall publish, giving me the facts where authorities can be found for retaining Ireland in the United States. What a glorious state of society it will be. Think of Dublin, and Cork, and Galway, and Tipperary and Tyrone, and all the other counties and cities, glorious through all history, think of them being a part of the United States. (Applause.) Is it reasonable to suppose that this may not be done? Ought we not to have some place where our steamers can land, a place that we can call ours and not dependent on foreign governments? What a glorious thing it would be to have America at both ends. What has been the benefit derived from the purchase of Alaska? We get nothing from her but blubber and seal oil and it is pretty much all stolen by speculators; and yet the people who purchased the country think it was a good bargain. If this be true it will be happy to annex Ireland to the United States. We ought to purchase Ireland and, if England does not see it, kick her out of the place and take it. (Applause.) We must keep alive this spirit of Americanism. There is not in any city or house a profligate so low as the court over which English royalty presides. The most despicable girl flung upon society is infinitely better than the present English aristocracy. The only thing striking about Lord Lorne's character is what he inherits from Ireland. He comes over here, and a man from General Sherman's staff is sent ove the country to wait upon Lord Lorne, in what capacity I do not know, except it be as a bootblack. The lord would not condescend to take a bath in a hotel where an American had been. (Laughter.) We sent a man over to the Czar with congratulations over his narrow escape from death. Are the American people taxed to glorify over a tyrant's escape from death?

Wonderful Marksmanship.

A Texas military company was out on the range recently practicing at rifle shooting. The lieutenant in command suddenly became exasperated at the poor shooting, and, seizing a gun from one of the privates, angrily exclaimed:

"I'll show you fellows how to shoot!"

Taking a long aim, and a strong aim, and an aim altogether, he fired, and missed. Coolly turning to the private who owned the gun, he said:

"That's the way you shoot."

He again loaded the weapon and missed. Turning to the second man in the ranks, he repeated.

"That's the way you shoot."

In this manner he contrived to miss fifty or sixty times, illustrating to each soldier his personal incapacity, and finally he accidentally hit the target.

"And that," he ejaculated, handing the gun back to the private, "is the way I shoot."

If I were Lying Dead.

The sun would still as brightly shine,
The roses blush as red,
The grass spread freshly o'er this heart of mine
As now beneath my tread—
The waters in the ever-stirring sea,
The birds above my head,
Would never chant a requiem for me—
If I were lying dead!

And would my being count as naught
If all were done and said?
No trace be left of any hope or thought
Which erst my brain had fed?
If pallid did my mortal fabric lie,
From whence all life has fled,
Where, where the sentient consciousness—the I—
If I were lying dead?

Some friend, no doubt, would gently lay
A kind hand on my head,
And softly for the out-bound spirit pray
Which had so lately sped.
But, save for this, or for some whispered tone,
Or quiet, rev'rent tread,
That I had lived and died would scarce be known,
If I were lying dead!

TERRORIZING COWBOYS.

An Arizona Court Seeks Safety in Flight.

TUCSON, Nov. 25.—Graham county is the headquarters of a gang of cowboys and ruffians. Many crimes have been committed there with impunity. At the late session of the County Court, after the jury had returned a verdict of not guilty in a murder case where the guilt was plain, Judge Sheldon sternly rebuked the jury, giving offense thereby to the lawless element. Twenty two convictions were secured during the session, among them being two of the most desperate among the cowboys. The companions of these fellows swore vengeance. It was learned that they had planned an attack on Judge Sheldon and other officials this morning, intending to intercept them on their way to Bowie from Solomonville, where the Court was held. To avoid this the Court adjourned on Friday instead of Saturday, as had been expected. Judge Sheldon, Prosecuting Attorney Stephens and several others yesterday made the trip to Bowie without trouble of any kind. It is reported that a gang of cowboys started on Friday night from Duncan, on the Clifton and Lordsburg road, with the object of "taking in" the Judge and his party on the way and subsequently attacking the jail at Solomonville and releasing the condemned criminals. The Sheriff has prepared to resist such an attack. A large posse of men has been summoned to defend the jail, and if the cowboys persist in their purpose bloody work will ensue.

A Novel Invention.

A Jewish young man, nineteen years old, named Solomon Schisgal, has invented a watch which goes by electricity, and with scarcely any movement; it is therefore simple in construction and easy to handle; it is cheap, and above all, keeps correct time. Herr Chwolson professor of physics at the University of St. Petersburg, has written an article on the subject in the Nowosti, in which he says: "In its remarkable simplicity this invention can only be compared with the Jablochkoff system of electric lighting. The watches are without any springs, and consist solely of two wheels. Besides being true, they have the advantage of the second hand moving in single monetary leaps, as is usually the case only in the very costly watches, and which is of the utmost utility for astronomical observations. These watches can also set in motion a certain number of watches of the same construction, so that they all keep exact time. The invention has convinced me that watches can be used for the purpose of telegraphy." After naming several other advantages Professor Chwolson describes the invention as a wonder which will cause an entire revolution in the manufacture of watches. Her Schisgal is the son of a Jewish watchmaker in Berditschew, Russia.

Fraser River News.

(Special to The Colonist.)

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 4.

No further news has been received from Maple Ridge or Harrison river respecting the reported murders by Chinese.

Steamer Adelaide, with a police officer and the district coroner, proceeded up-river on Monday morning and has not yet returned.

Arrangements are being perfected for the establishment of a weekly newspaper at Port Moody. The first issue will appear at New Year. Its title will be the Port Moody Herald. Publishers, W. H. Ellis & Co.

The telegraph line between this city and Port Moody will be in working order to-morrow.

A rumor is current to-night that the body of another white man was found yesterday opposite Maple Ridge and strong suspicions of foul play are entertained. No particulars, however, have come to hand.

The Columbian, referring to the discharge of railway hands above Yale, which they estimate to number 3,000 Chinese and 500 whites, says that the former are nearly all destitute of money and cannot get work and fears that they will bind themselves together and plunder the supplies. Referring to the increase in opium smoking among the Indians and the abuses resulting therefrom, it closes as follows: "Unless some means are adopted there will be frightful lawlessness and bloodshed in the interior during the winter."

County court opens here to-morrow.

YALE.

Shocking Accident on a Hand Car.

(Special to The Colonist.)

YALE, Nov. 4.

About noon on Sunday while some men were coming down the railway track near Boston Bar in a hand car, one of the number named Elliott, who was sitting in the front of the car, was struck on the head by the lever, rendering him unconscious. Before the car could be stopped he was struck again and again, one blow on the face and the balance on the neck. He was carried to the engineer's house at Yankee Flat, when he was brought to the hospital here. He is now conscious, but unable to move, and fears are entertained that his spine has been seriously injured. Elliott is an ex-offier of the British army, and for some time previous to the accident had been in business in New Westminister.

EAST COAST ROUTE.

Caution to the Traveling Public

Take notice, that the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. having advertised the old steamer Enterprise to run on the East Coast route from and after Friday next, I hereby inform freighters and travelers that I have no connection, directly or indirectly, with the said company or the said old steamer Enterprise, and I hereby inform the residents of Victoria and the East Coast that the aim of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. is to create a monopoly of the carrying traffic on the East Coast of the Island—the same as now exists, to the public sorrow and indignation, on the Fraser and between Victoria and the Mainland, by which the rates of freight within the last twelve months have been nearly doubled by the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co. at the cost of the public. And I hereby caution the public not to contract for passage or freight with the said C. P. N. Co. as I am now completing arrangements for NEW BOATS to run on the Fraser as well as on the East Coast, by which passengers and freight will be carried at the reasonable rates which prevailed before the Canadian Pacific Navigation Co.'s Grab. The said steamers will be managed by obliging and civil officers.

JOSEPH SPRATT,
Owner of H.M. Mail Steamers on tf the East Coast.

The Wreck of the Victoria.

On Wednesday, at 2:30 p.m., in clear weather, she ran on a sunken rock staving a hole in her bow. This occurred about five miles northwest of the Cape Blanco reef, and she put into Port Orford, where the captain ran her ashore, as the water was gaining at the rate of a foot an hour in the hold, and increasing at that. The passengers, about six in all, and the crew, with their baggage, were landed safely. The steamer will go to pieces with the first southerly weather. This information is gained from a messenger from the scene of the disaster.

EVOLUTIONS.—Remark the change, a quarter of a century ago and now Victoria with its former primitive forests, log cabins, and the crudest structures for a shelter, which to-day smiles with its many comfortable homes. We claim a meed of credit among those who have "made the wilderness and solitary places to blossom as the rose" to have been the nucleus of introducing other refining elements. We do not particularize one thing, because, in certain parlance, it has the ring of being nasty and shoppy, but we assert that the "tout ensemble" of our place gives a perfect picture of an attractive Christmas resort. T. N. HIBBEN & Co.

IN COLLAR AGAIN.—The steam-schooner Anna Beck, having completed her extensive repairs of damages occasioned by fire a month or so ago, left yesterday with the Sardonyx freight for Nanaimo and will return with a load of coal.

LARCENY.

Simon Schroeder, remanded on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes from the Telegraph hotel, was again brought up.

H. H. Green deposed the stolen clothes were his.

Mr. Whitley stated on Friday last the clothes were brought to his store by prisoner with a longstory about having bought them in California.

George Bushbridge deposed that prisoner came to a house where he was, with the clothes produced on him beneath another suit. He asked witness to take charge of the under suit. He stated that he had got them from the barkeeper of the Telegraph hotel.

The prisoner said he did not think the evidence was sufficient, but his honor differed with him, and sent him up for trial.

London Theatre.

The performance last night at the London theatre of "The Fatal Bond" was even more successful than that of the evening previous. Mr. Holmes Grover, Miss DeLome and Mr. F. Cleaves took the principal parts. Mr. J. C. Miller made the character of Spanish Mike a perfect masterpiece. Miss Fanny Wood looked as charming as ever, while Mrs Tennent, as Gipsy Meg, was good. In fact this lady makes a success of all the parts she assumes, as the public can testify. Messrs. Gray and Barrows, as the rival poets, created great amusement and the whole was highly relished by the gallery "gods," who, whenever virtue proved triumphant, fairly yelled with delight. The orchestral music, also, has decidedly improved of late. The play will be repeated this evening.

THE BOULON AND MOORE COMBINATION. This company will perform in Victoria on Friday and Saturday evenings with a matinee on Saturday afternoon. The Seattle Post-Intelligencer says of one of their entertainments given an evening or two ago in Yesler hall to a fine audience: The entertainment is replete with fun, music and specialties and the audience are kept waiting very little, which is a great point in in itself. Paul and Noonie Boulon gave an excellent violin duet. Mr. Moore in his character sketches was excellent. Paul Boulon's Chinaman was celestial and so was his music. Mr. Barnes on the guitar and Mr. Moore as a mimic were both very good, and the drum solo by Mr. Young was a severe and curious test of the ears of the audience.

Information now comes from there that Bishop Ridley's adherents, few in number, are armed, and his opponents likewise, and a collision, unless steps are taken by the Indian department, is deemed inevitable and may have already occurred.

He became frightened, and chopped the body up and put it into a trunk and started off to dispose of it. He carried it to Ruddy's house, where he was somewhat acquainted. It is thought that two were engaged in the contemplated robbery, as a negro saw two men running away from the express office after the shooting. Superintendent Fisher has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the robbers. McWilliams' wound is fatal. He is 28 years old, and has a wife and one child.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Times publishes a dispatch from Khartoum, dated Friday, which states that Captain Merchant, who witnessed the battle between Egyptian forces and the forces of El Mahdi, saw Alaid Deru Pasha, the governor of Khartoum, killed at the opening of the battle. He states that Hicks Pasha was slain by a lance on the third day of the battle, when the last cartridge of the Egyptians had been fired. The men in Hicks Pasha's army had been without water three days, and the soldiers offered four dollars for a drink. The fugitives, if any, from the Egyptians, must have been slain or captured, while making for the well known wells. Colonel DeCooligon has again sent a spy to visit the scene of the battle and enter El Obeid, and ascertain the fate of the survivors. The civil engineer who was with Hicks Pasha, is supposed to have shared his fate. All the biscuits and provisions stored at Duem for Hicks Pasha's army, have been brought to Khartoum. OUR SANITARIUM.

A good gargle for a sore throat is made of vinegar and a little red pepper mixed with water.

Coffee or tea should never be given to children at night. They disturb the nerve system and make children cross and peevish.

Coarse brown paper soaked in vinegar and placed on the forehead is good for a sick headache. If the eyelids are gently bathed in cool water the pain in the head is generally allayed.

When putting glycerine on chapped hands, first wash them thoroughly in soap and water, and when not quite dry rub in the glycerine. This process will be found much better than the old one.

Baking soda is one of the best known remedies for burns and scalds. It should be immediately applied either wet or dry It almost instantly relieves the burning sensation and heips to heal.

On rising in the morning always put on the shoes and stockings the first thing. Never walk about in the bare feet, or stand on oil-cloth. Even in summer-time this is a dangerous and unhealthy practice.

In case of poisoning, one of the best emetics is salt and water, the quantity being two tablespoonfuls of salt to about a pint of tepid water. It acts promptly and has the advantage of always being near at hand.

People subjected to cold feet and hands should get up a brisk circulation just before retiring by rubbing the entire body with a coarse flannel or a Turkish towel. Rub regularly and briskskly until in a good glow. This is also good for sleeplessness.

One of the best cures for croup, and one which is always at hand, is to dip strips of flannel in very hot water and then bind tightly about the throat. Remove as soon as cold and apply others. A cold in the chest can also be cured by wetting several thicknesses of flannel in hot water and laying it upon the chest.

One of the best and most strengthening drinks, as well as a pleasant one, to give a delicate child, is made by beating up an egg in a tumbler with a little sugar until it froths, then fill it with rich milk and have the child drink it at once. The nourishment in the egg and milk combined will sustain the system all day if nothing else be taken.

Milk as a Remedy.

Considerable has been lately said in medical journals concerning the value of milk as a remedial agent in certain diseases. An interesting article on this subject lately appeared in the London Milk Journal, in which it is stated, on the authority of Dr. Benjamin Clark, that in the East Indies warm milk is used to a great extent as a specific for diarrhoea. A pint every four hours will check the most violent diarrhoea, stomach-ach, incipient cholera, and dysentery. The milk should never be boiled, but only heated sufficiently to be agreeably warm, not too hot to drink. Milk which has been boiled is unfit for use. This writer gives several instances in arresting the disease, among which is the following: The writer say: "It has never failed in curing in six or twelve hours, and I have tried it, I should think, fifty times."

"I have also given it to a dying man who has been subject to dysentery eight months, latterly accompanied by one continual diarrhoea, and it acted on him like a charm. In two days his diarrhoea was gone; in three weeks he became a hale, hearty man; and now nothing that may hearafter occur will ever shake his faith in hot milk. A writer also communicates to the Medical Times and Gazette a statement of the value of milk in twenty-six cases of typhoid fever, in every one of which its great value was apparent. It checks diarrœa, and nourishes and cools the body. People suffering from disease need food quite as much as those in health, and much more so in certain diseases where there is rapid waste of the system. Frequently all ordinary food in certain diseases is rejected by the stomach, and even loathed by the patient; but nature, ever beneficent, has furnished a food that in all diseases is beneficial—for some directly curative. Such food is milk.

The writer in the journal last quoted, Dr. Alexander Yale, after giving particular observations upon the point above mention—its action in checking diarrhœa, its nourishing properties and its action in cooling the body, says: "We believe that milk nourishes in fever, promotes sleep, wards off delirium, soothes the intestines, and, in fine, is the sine qua non in typhoid fever." We have lately tested the value of milk in scarlet fever, and learn that it is now recommended by the medical faculity in all cases of this often very distressing children's disease. Give all the milk the patient will take, even duridg the period of greatest fever. It keeps up the strength of the patient, acts well upon the stomach, and is in every way a blessed thing in this sickness.

The Wonderful Hat.

The other day a man came into town
A man known to many as Frederick Brown,
Who says that in the bush the other day
He found, when 'twas too late, he'd lost his way;
That striking out, haphazard, and keeping to the left
He reached the place he started from,
Of his senses near bereft.
'Twas then he stopped and knelt—to pray?
Oh! no, 'twas not for that,
But to inspect the compass in the lining of his hat.
Still looking in his hat he took his bearings as he strode,
And safely merged at last upon the well-kept level road.
He mopped the perspiration that his efforts had called forth,
And said, "God bless the needle that pointed to the north!
And bless the man who sold it me;
My duty 'tis to tell,
My compass hat I purchased at the famous I. X. L."

Taught to be Dishonest.

"When your term expires it is to be hoped you will lead a different life," Judge Black of Philadelphia said after he had sentenced James Robinson to three years in the Eastern penitentiary. Robinson, who had been convicted of conspiring to make off with three cases of linen goods from a dray, retorted after the sentence: "I worked three years in the state prison making shoes and I know as much about making shoes as I do about watches. They taught me in your prisoner to be dishonest. My principal work was to paste leather and pasteboard together to make a thick sole to impose on the public. The man who had the contract was a Christion, a member of the church and at the time I called his attention to the fact he was foreman of the grand jury.

Among Christmas exhibits are the cards for this season. Chastity in taste becomes confused in their selection, because they represent so many "par-excellence" publishers. To please all tastes we have in stock Saunders & Co., Hildersheimer, Raphael Tuck & Sons, and Prang's Xmas and New Year cards. The latter, although excellent as usual in beauty of design, will be found fully equalled by the former, and even surpassed in cheapness in price. T. N. HIBBEN & Co. tjan. *
